"The Museo Podcast - On Air" offers an intimate look into Latino arts and culture, featuring behind-the-scenes stories from artists, curators, staff, and community members at Museo de las Americas. Through personal narratives, the podcast celebrates and amplifies the creative voices of Latino communities in Denver and beyond.

HABLA: Spanish Conversation Club

A fun, relaxed space to practice Spanish, celebrate culture, and connect with the community. Join us monthly at Cerveceria Colorado (with $1 off drafts for Museo Members!). All levels welcome.

October 10, 2024 - January 26, 2025

MIGRANTS: A TALE OF TWO HEARTS

Migrants: A Tale of Two Hearts

The journey of migrants to the U.S. is full of internal changes taking place in the physical body and mental state. This exhibit will explore the internal and external experiences of the immigrant who leaves home in search of a new and better life.

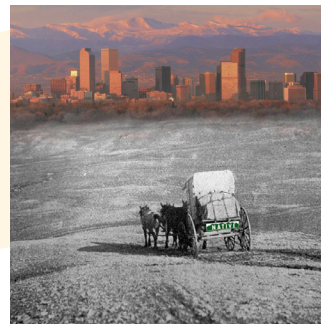

February 20, 2025 - July 13, 2025

AfroMexican Journey: Yanga, Slavery, & Freedom

The impact of Africans enslaved in Mexico is often overlooked. This exhibition honors Gaspar Yanga as the "First Liberator of the Americas" and celebrates Afro-Mexican culture's resilience, creativity, and legacy. Uncover Mexico's untold history and the universal quest for freedom and identity. (Artwork by Edgar Alegre Reyerer, mural reproduction)

July 24, 2025 - September 28, 2025

Pop-Up Exhibition: Accidentally on Purpose

As witnesses of their time, Denver local artists Maruca and Daniel Salazar celebrate their 50th Anniversary with an extravaganza of altars, animation, film, photography, installation, poetry and paintings created over the last half century. Celebrate their journey of Chicano identity, from the northside and across the invisible railroad tracks. (Artwork by Daniel Salazar)

October 16, 2025 - January 11, 2026

Rosas y Revelaciones

Since 1531, the Virgin of Guadalupe has shaped Mexico's culture and art. Textile artist Linda Hanna commissioned artisans to create garments inspired by their faith. This exhibition highlights Mexico's rich textile traditions and the Virgin's enduring influence. (Artwork by Cecilia Bautista)
